

CRS is dedicated to adding value.

Sybil Benazera, President
Corporate Realty Solutions, Inc.

Corporate Realty Solutions, Inc. was formed to aid in strategic real estate decision making. Its goal is to act as a central broker for local and multi-locational user requirements, thereby efficiently utilizing resources and relationships while reducing the time and effort required to secure facilities for corporations of all sizes. CRS performs this service by combining its advanced network of brokers with appropriate outsourcing, minimizing the need for corporations to interface with local professionals directly. Corporations typically list facilities costs in their top ten expenditures. This monetary outlay is too important to trust to untrained personnel. Through outsourcing and professional alliances, it is possible to gather a pool of talent to assist your company at little or no cost. Outsourcing real estate issues permits a firm to concentrate on its core business, while allowing real estate professionals to perform the work to which they are accustomed. Corporations are able to use the CRS expertise without having to retain expensive real estate professionals internally. CRS creates value in our services by providing a variety of professionals at a given point in time. CRS is there when need and not a payroll liability when unnecessary. Tenant Representation works to leverage the reality of the market to the client's best interest. By understanding our client's short and long term objectives, the maximum alternatives become available to your company. While combining analysis and computer models, our primary focus at CRS is timing, technology and professional competence, which really determines the success or failure of finding and retaining the correct facilities. The net result: Added Value At No Extra Cost.

CRS distinguishes itself by thoroughly understanding your company's real estate requirements. As part of your team, we facilitate customized solutions for your property objectives. CRS strives to be responsive, accurate and consistent.
